Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 15 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rain easing, then mainly dry. Further showers Sunday, perhaps thundery.

This Evening and Tonight:
Outbreaks of rain, mainly across Norfolk and parts of Suffolk, clearing north during the evening. Clear spells and light winds follow, allowing the odd patch of mist to develop by dawn. However, isolated showers remain possible throughout. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Sunday:
Sunny spells at first, however cloud soon bubbling up with scattered showers developing. These turning heavy at times, with thunder and hail possible. Warm brighter spells remaining likely between showers. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Heavy showers and sunny spells on Monday, sometimes thundery. Sunny spells, and further showers also likely Tuesday and Wednesday, although not as heavy or as frequent as on Monday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.